

Mustafa Tekin, M.D.

Dr. Mustafa Tekin is an Associate Professor at the Dr. John T. Macdonald Foundation Department of Human Genetics at the University of Miami Miller School of Medicine in Miami, Florida. Dr. Tekin is board certified in Clinical Genetics. He completed clinical training in Pediatrics and in Clinical Genetics. Dr. Tekin's main area of interest is the genetics of hearing loss including nonsyndromic deafness as well as a broad variety of special genetic conditions associated with hearing loss such as Usher, Pendred, and branchio-oto-renal syndromes, inner ear anomalies and auditory neuropathy. He also provides clinical care for patients with von Hippel Lindau disease.

To make an appointment, call 305-243-6006.